Over the years, ROBLOX has used advertising to generate revenue for their company, which they generate through in-game purchases (microtransactions) or advertisements (which can be annoying for the players). In addition to this, they also generate revenue through selling virtual items (like the aforementioned Builders Club and ROBLOX Credit). The company has also released several games like their top grossing game "Build a Buddy". ROBLOX has been criticized for its lack of funding from advertisers as well as allowing other companies to make games on ROBLOX. The company has been criticized for their children friendly ads which are designed to be easily visible by children but are very inappropriate for them which is seen as a breach of the COPPA (Children's Online Privacy Protection Act) and their end user license agreement, although ROBLOX has since changed its policy. The company also uses an "Ads on the Web" program where they can serve certain types of ads depending upon a player's age and location.

I have always wondered why people enjoyed playing Roblox so much. I think it's because it's very similar to Minecraft in many ways; for one thing, the graphics are very childish which got me interested at first. Because the game is customizable, you can choose to look at the world through a little boy's eyes or that of an adult. I chose to be an adult for a time, but it was always hard to play because it would become so boring. But at some point when I was playing Roblox, my interest in it started to fade away. The reason for this is because of the new updates they made to Roblox. Now there are so many advertisements everywhere and so many games being added every day.
